

'Communication Masterclass' for Educators

This Half-Day Professional Training is suitable for:

Principals, Teachers, Educators, Counsellors, Guidance Officers, Chaplains,
Youth Workers & anyone that works in a group or team setting.

This 'Communication Masterclass' training centres around our own system of how people interact, the C.A.R.D. model, which clearly demonstrates how four distinctly different styles of communication can impact performance & the quality of our daily interactions.

Poor communication is at the heart of many of the disagreements we see in classrooms & workplace settings, but with a little understanding, along with a few practical strategies, people can learn to better interact with others thereby reducing conflict in their classroom & workplace.

Good communication is not just about conflict reduction though as it also provides the foundation for building better relationships with your students, with your colleagues & in a team or organisational setting.

Time	Activity
Session 1 2 hours	What colour do I speak & what are my core values? How does my communication style dictate my daily interactions & what happens when 'they' speak a different colour?
Break	Activity
Session 2 2 hours	Practical communication strategies for teachers & educators including; how to work with your 'opposite' types, & how to deliver your message in classrooms & to larger audiences.
Finish	Q & A
Program times are flexible & can also be delivered at weekends & via Zoom.

Michael White - Creator of AusIDentities, is your facilitator for this half-day Masterclass into effective communication. Michael has been involved with Education since 2005, and the AusIDentities series of programs have been introduced to over 350 schools as well as educational groups such as: QASSP, QELI, Study Queensland, Stronger-Smarter & TAFE.

It's not just about education either as organisations such as the Red Cross, Foster Care Australia, the Salvation Army & Scripture Union have also discovered the benefits of better self-awareness & more effective communication skills.

Our goal at AusIDentities is to make sure every student has the opportunity to perform to the best of their abilities while supporting teachers & educators across the country to better engage with their classroom & colleagues.
